

Apex Global Partners, Inc. Appoints Di Blasi to lead Austin's sales Operations Austin Operations

Apex Global Partners (AGP) Appoints Mario Di Blasi as Sales Director of its Austin Employee Benefits Operations.

Dallas, Texas (PRWEB) June 24, 2009 – “We are pleased to announce that AGP has appointed Mario Di Blasi as Director of Sales of our Austin Employee Benefits Division. Mario’s experience in the structuring of contemporary healthcare programs for Texas employers fits nicely with our newly expanded Austin office. Additionally, his leadership experience at Cigna and other national healthcare providers in building high quality service operations, significantly expands our capabilities in Austin for both our clients and AGP professional staff, states Gary Griffith, Chairman and CEO of AGP.

“I am excited to join the AGP Austin team and to work with Joe Bittner and the AGP senior leadership group. I’m also looking forward to expanding the services we offer to our Greater Austin area clients as we introduce other AGP services, including Health and Welfare consulting, Actuarial Services, and Human Resources Consulting and Outsourcing, stated Mario Di Blasi.

Headquartered in Dallas, AGP provides creative solutions to its corporate clients in the areas of domestic and international brokerage and risk management consulting, as well as employee benefits and human resources consulting and outsourcing, and actuarial services. Apex works with more than 63 partners in 55 countries through its participation in WBN, Ltd, the largest privately owned insurance broker network.
